Fifth Sunday of Lent 21 March 2021

Reflection of the Gospel

The festival mentioned in the opening of the gospel (John 12:20-33) had earlier (11:55 and 12:1) been specified as the Passover. John has a peculiar habit of repeating: a series of units is not always truly sequential chronologically but are perhaps different aspects of a single episode, often threaded together by key phrases that may appear in other episodes too. Sometimes the Lectionary brings them together. Thus last Sunday's phrase "the Son of Man must be lifted up" (3:14) reappears today as "when I am lifted up" (12:28) and will be heard on Tuesday this week in "when you have lifted up the Son of Man" (8:28), but a variant echo early in today's pericope—"for the Son of Man to be glorified"—belongs to the pattern of overlapping nuances of verbs offer, lift up, and glorify; see also the reflection for the Second Sunday of Lent B. The last arises again near the end of today's reading with the voice from heaven saying "I have glorified [it] and again shall glorify [it]." The interweaving does not stop there; whereas the other gospels (except Luke's story of the twelve year old Jesus) mention Passover only in the final scenes, reference to it threads throughout John. And in today's pericope John also places both an element akin to the voice from heaven that the others have only at his baptism and transfiguration, and an echo of Jesus' anguish that the others place in Gethsemane. Thus in his own way John weaves here the theophanies at the baptism and transfiguration to prelude that which will unfold, whereby the single grain "dies" in order to bear many more.

The second reading (Heb 5:7-9) fore-echoes the gospel's Gethsemane element, the prayer to be saved from death, so it is surprising that the Lectionary does not include the other link to the gospel, Hebrews 5:5, "So also Christ did not glorify himself to become high priest, but he who had said to him 'You are my Son ...'". Perhaps, however, it was to avoid the complication that would arise from the references to being "a priest in the order of Melchizedek" in v.6 and 10. Nonetheless, these two readings go hand in hand this Sunday to point to the approaching commemoration of Jesus' death, evoking as it does the old designation of Passiontide, which used to begin on this Sunday.

The first reading (Jer 31:31-34) takes us back instead to the giving of the Covenant during the Exodus, which we encountered two weeks ago. Jeremiah alludes to the Decalogue, carved in stone, but does so obliquely in indicating a new one will be put deep within the people's hearts, thus to be written in flesh. This fleshy image provides a tenuous link to the second reading's opening phrase, for although our Lectionary has "During his life on earth, Christ...", the Greek directly translates as "[He], who in the days of his flesh..."; he who is the Word made flesh and thus already bears the Law in his heart "submitted... humbly" and "obey[ed] through suffering", in contrast to those Jeremiah mentioned who by disobedience broke the Covenant, but who will have the Law written on their hearts.

In the gospel there remains the odd business of the Greeks whose request to see Jesus leads to the soliloquy that seems to have nothing to do with them. We come then to the crunch as these various threads are drawn together: in John's gospel Philip and Andrew are servants of Christ's presence, but he is the presence of the Father; when he is lifted up, he will draw all people to himself, with no need of intermediaries, with none to say to another "Learn to know the Lord!"

Entrance Antiphon

Give me justice, O God, and plead my cause against a nation that is faithless. From the deceitful and cunning rescue me, for you, O God, are my strength.

First Reading

Jeremiah 31:31-34

A reading from the prophet Jeremiah

The days are coming when I will make a new covenant with Israel and I will forgive their iniquity.

See, the days are coming - it is the Lord who speaks - when I will make a new covenant with the House of Israel and the House of Judah, but not a covenant like the one I made with their ancestors on the day I took them by the hand to bring them out of the land of Egypt. They broke that covenant of mine, so I had to show them who was master. It is the Lord who speaks. No, this is the covenant I will make with the House of Israel when those days arrive - it is the Lord who speaks. Deep within them I will plant my Law, writing it on their hearts. Then I will be their God and they shall be my people. There will be no further need for neighbour to try to teach neighbour, or brother to say to brother, 'Learn to know the Lord!' No, they will all know me, the least no less than the greatest - it is the Lord who speaks - since I will forgive their iniquity and never call their sin to mind.

The word of the Lord.

Thanks be to God

Responsorial Psalm

Ps 50:3-4, 12-15

R. Create a clean heart in me, O God.

Have mercy on me, God, in your kindness. In your compassion blot out my offence. O wash me more and more from my guilt and cleanse me from my sin. R.

A pure heart create for me, O God, put a steadfast spirit within me. Do not cast me away from your presence, nor deprive me of your holy spirit. R.

Give me again the joy of your help; with a spirit of fervour sustain me, that I may teach transgressors your ways and sinners may return to you. R.

Second Reading

Hebrews 5:7-9

A reading from the letter to the Hebrews

He learnt to obey and became for all the source of eternal salvation.

During his life on earth, Christ offered up prayer and entreaty, aloud and in silent tears, to the one who had the power to save him out of death, and he submitted so humbly that his prayer was heard. Although he was Son, he learnt to obey through suffering; but having been made perfect, he became for all who obey him the source of eternal salvation.

The word of the Lord.

Thanks be to God.

Gospel Acclamation

John 12:26

Glory and praise to you, Lord Jesus Christ!

If you serve me, follow me, says the Lord; and where I am, my servant will also be.

Glory and praise to you, Lord Jesus Christ!

Gospel

John 12:20-30

A reading from the holy Gospel according to John

If a grain of wheat falls on the ground and dies, it yields a rich harvest.

Among those who went up to worship at the festival were some Greeks. These approached Philip, who came from Bethsaida in Galilee, and put this request to him, 'Sir, we should like to see Jesus.' Philip went to tell Andrew, and Andrew and Philip together went to tell Jesus. Jesus replied to them:

'Now the hour has come for the Son of Man to be glorified.

I tell you, most solemnly, unless a wheat grain falls on the ground and dies, it remains only a single grain; but if it dies, it yields a rich harvest. Anyone who loves his life loses it; anyone who hates his life in this world will keep it for the eternal life. If a man serves me, he must follow me, wherever I am, my servant will be there too. If anyone serves me, my Father will honour him. Now my soul is troubled. What shall I say: Father, save me from this hour? But it was for this very reason that I have come to this hour. Father, glorify your name!"

A voice came from heaven, 'I have glorified it, and I will glorify it again.'

People standing by, who heard this, said it was a clap of thunder; others said, 'It was an angel speaking to him.' Jesus answered, 'It was not for my sake that this voice came, but for yours.

'Now sentence is being passed on this world; now the prince of this world is to be overthrown. And when I am lifted up from the earth, I shall draw all men to myself.'

By these words he indicated the kind of death he would die.

The Gospel of the Lord.

Praise to you, Lord Jesus Christ.

Communion Antiphon

Amen, Amen I say to you: Unless a grain of wheat falls to the ground and dies, it remains a single grain. But if it dies, it bears much fruit.

FAITH FORMATION

⇒ Our Lady of Perpetual Help

Oh Mother of Perpetual Help, grant that I may ever invoke your powerful name, the protection of the living and the salvation of the dying. Purest Mary, let your name henceforth be ever on my lips. Delay not, Blessed Lady, to rescue me whenever I call on you. In my temptations, in my needs, I will never cease to call on you, ever repeating your sacred name, Mary, Mary. What a consolation, what sweetness, what confidence fills my soul when I utter your sacred name or even only think of you! I thank the Lord for having given you so sweet, so powerful, so lovely a name. But I will not be content with merely uttering your name. Let my love for you prompt me ever to hail you Mother of Perpetual Help. Mother of Perpetual Help, pray for me and grant me the favour I confidently ask of you. (Then say three Hail Marys).

⇒ GARDENERS AND CLEANERS

Garden Bees - our gardens look magnificent thanks to the work of our abled parishioners but more help is needed. The commitment would be whatever time you can spare - a few hours a fortnight to assist in the maintenance of the church's garden surrounds.

Cleaners - we have four teams of cleaners who clean the church on a monthly cycle and four teams who clean the votive candle stands every few months. Both groups need more bodies to help out, urgently. The commitment would be a few hours each month. For more information contact maintenance@john23rd.org.au

⇒ SRE Teachers

If you could spare an hour during weekdays to spread God's word teaching the scriptures to children, WE NEED YOU.
