

Second Sunday Ordinary time 16 January 2022

Welcome to the community of the Catholic Parish of St John 23rd Glenwood-Stanhope Gardens where the love of Christ is shining in so many ways.

From ancient times the gospel readings at Epiphany, for the Baptism of the Lord, and today, along with most weekdays in between, formed a thematically coherent series of manifestations – they form the Epiphany cycle or season that we could call Epiphanytide. Today's gospel reading, the wedding at Cana, is unique to John; he calls it the "first sign given by Jesus" and observes that Jesus "manifested his glory" (clearly labelling it an epiphany) and "his disciples believed in him."

Many years ago, while attending school camps on the shore of a lake in our district, almost invariably students would ask me to turn the lake's water into wine. Then, upon my failure even to attempt inflicting so unkind a thing upon all the creatures therein, they would suggest I walk on it. The young cynics were inventively and indirectly expressing their incredulity at the gospel stories, but at the same time they betrayed a literalist approach to reading Scripture which actually does it violence. Many people nowadays seem incapable of accepting that truth and fact are not coterminous in literature, in other words, that something is not untrue, or is false, simply because it is not historically factual. Fiction does convey truth, or else storytelling is pointless. Not all events presented in biblical stories occurred exactly as told, but their reason for being told not about historicity. They often draw richly from other texts in a way that enters into conversation with the past, and casts new light on current concerns. A modern term for this process is intertextuality, but this also needs to consider elements current at the time of the first telling even though those elements never became texts. John the evangelist, in his peculiar style, draws heavily from the Hebrew Scriptures, but he appears to have done so via Targumim, interpretively elaborated translations from the Hebrew. Not all the Targumim survived or were even written. In addition, John threads material through his narrative units to weave a seamless whole.

Today's gospel is an excellent example of all this, with far more going on than a simplistic reading admits. Since space is short, presentation of the peculiarities of the story and their links elsewhere will be condensed. Firstly, this is the only wedding mentioned in John (the other gospels have several in parables) but in Revelation we are told "the wedding of the Lamb has come... Blessed are those called to the wedding supper of the Lamb" (Revelation 19:7,9). Secondly, when the observation of "the mother of Jesus" (who, as with "the beloved disciple", John never names) that "they have no wine" prompts the seemingly blunt "What is that to you and me? My hour has not yet come" we are in fact being told that he is not (yet) the bridegroom. The bridegroom was to provide the feast's wine, but as this groom fails to do so Jesus then fulfils that role—a point made clear in the unwitting steward's comment to the bridegroom on the superiority of this newly drawn wine. But scholars also note connections to the next appearance of John the Baptist who in 3:29 likens Jesus to the bridegroom. Thirdly, the only other instances in the Greek of the noun for water-jar and the verb draw are found in the encounter with the Samaritan woman at the well (4:5-28, itself connected to Genesis 24 where Rebecca appears at a well as potential bride for prospective bridegroom Isaac); there Jesus does declare "the hour is coming, and is now here", and at the end of the episode a direct reference is made back to Cana and the first sign. There are in fact several verbal threads through these three units, but they also share in a promise of superabundance, of wine at Cana, of water at the Samaritan well, and in between is the Baptist's testimony to the Spirit given "without measure" (3:34).

When the scenes of the wedding and the well, and the Baptist's interlude, are read in conjunction we find a typically creative Johannine exposition of Jesus as the eschatological bridegroom, the promised of the ages, and none other than God himself who weds the newly redeemed bride.

Our Parish Mission

The parish of St John XXIII is a faith community with the Eucharist as its heart.

Inspired by John XXIII's prophetic opening of the windows of the Church, we welcome the fresh air of the Holy Spirit, inviting every person to share in the responsibility of enriching the life and faith of our community by sharing their gifts and talents."

Entrance Antiphon

All the earth shall bow down before you, O God, and shall sing to you, shall sing to your name, O Most High!

First Reading

Isaiah 62:1-5

A reading from the prophet Isaiah

As the bridegroom rejoices in his bride, so will your God rejoice in you.

About Zion I will not be silent, about Jerusalem I will not grow weary, until her integrity shines out like the dawn and her salvation flames like a torch.

The nations then will see your integrity, all the kings your glory, and you will be called by a new name, one which the mouth of the Lord will confer. You are to be a crown of splendour in the hand of the Lord, a princely diadem in the hand of your God; no longer are you to be named 'Forsaken,' nor your land 'Abandoned,' but you shall be called 'My Delight' and your land 'The Wedded'; for the Lord takes delight in you and your land will have its wedding.

Like a young man marrying a virgin, so will the one who built you wed you, and as the bridegroom rejoices in his bride, so will your God rejoice in you.

The word of the Lord.

Thanks be to God

Responsorial Psalm

Ps 95:1-3, 7-10

R. Proclaim his marvellous deeds to all the nations.

O sing a new song to the Lord, sing to the Lord all the earth. O sing to the Lord, bless his name. R.

Proclaim his help day by day, tell among the nations his glory and his wonders among all the peoples. R.

Give the Lord, you families of peoples, give the Lord glory and power, give the Lord the glory of his name. R.

Worship the Lord in his temple. O earth, tremble before him. Proclaim to the nations: 'God is king.' He will judge the peoples in fairness. R.

Second Reading

1 Corinthians 12:4-11

A reading from the first letter of St Paul to the Corinthians

One and the same spirit distributes different gifts as he chooses.

There is a variety of gifts but always the same Spirit; there are all sorts of service to be done, but always to the same Lord; working in all sorts of different ways in different people, it is the same God who is working in all of them. The particular way in which the Spirit is given to each person is for a good purpose. One may have the gift of preaching with wisdom given him by the Spirit; another may have the gift of preaching instruction given him by the same Spirit; and another the gift of faith given by the same Spirit; another again the gift of healing, through this one Spirit; one, the power of miracles; another, prophecy; another the gift of recognising spirits; another the gift of tongues and another the ability to interpret them. All these are the work of one and the same Spirit, who distributes different gifts to different people just as he chooses.

The word of the Lord.

Thanks be to God

Gospel Acclamation

Gospel

John 2:1-11

A reading from the holy Gospel according to John

The first of the signs given by Jesus was at Cana in Galilee.

There was a wedding at Cana in Galilee. The mother of Jesus was there, and Jesus and his disciples had also been invited. When they ran out of wine, since the wine provided for the wedding was all finished, the mother of Jesus said to him, 'They have no wine.' Jesus said, 'Woman, why turn to me? My hour has not come yet.' His mother said to the servants, 'Do whatever he tells you.' There were six stone water jars standing there, meant for the ablutions that are customary among the Jews: each could hold twenty or thirty gallons. Jesus said to the servants, 'Fill the jars with water,' and they filled them to the brim. 'Draw some out now,' he told them, 'and take it to the steward.' They did this; the steward tasted the water, and it had turned into wine. Having no idea where it came from - only the servants who had drawn the water knew - the steward called the bridegroom and said, 'People generally serve the best wine first, and keep the cheaper sort till the guests have had plenty to drink; but you have kept the best wine till now.'

This was the first of the signs given by Jesus: it was given at Cana in Galilee. He let his glory be seen, and his disciples believed in him.

The Gospel of the Lord.

Praise to you, Lord Jesus Christ.

Communion Antiphon

You have prepared a table before me, and how precious is the chalice that quenches my thirst.

Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

Re: COVID-19 (Coronavirus) Update

Masks

The NSW Government has announced that as of midnight tonight, masks are required to be worn in all indoor settings, including places of worship.

COVID19 Safe Check-In and Record Keeping

Check-in using the NSW QR Code and record keeping of all attendees are still required for places of worship and remain important for NSW Health contact tracing.

Density Limits

At this stage, the NSW government is only reintroducing the 2 square metre rule for indoor hospitality venues. Based on the latest announcement made by the NSW Government, there is no change to density limits for places of worship i.e. no density limits will apply for our churches.

Other Measures

In an effort to slow the spread of the COVID-19 virus, the NSW government is also asking people to consider moving events outdoors where possible and discouraging mingling and singing.

Parishes should consider measures to manage the spread including:

- The possibility of having Masses outdoors, weather permitting;
- Discouraging congregational singing; and
- Limiting social gatherings where possible

Yours in Christ,

Very Rev Peter G. Williams

Vicar General & Moderator of the Curia

FAITH FORMATION

⇒ Our Lady of Perpetual Help

Oh Mother of Perpetual Help, grant that I may ever invoke your powerful name, the protection of the living and the salvation of the dying. Purest Mary, let your name henceforth be ever on my lips. Delay not, Blessed Lady, to rescue me whenever I call on you. In my temptations, in my needs, I will never cease to call on you, ever repeating your sacred name, Mary, Mary. What a consolation, what sweetness, what confidence fills my soul when I utter your sacred name or even only think of you! I thank the Lord for having given you so sweet, so powerful, so lovely a name. But I will not be content with merely uttering your name. Let my love for you prompt me ever to hail you Mother of Perpetual Help. Mother of Perpetual Help, pray for me and grant me the favour I confidently ask of you. (Then say three Hail Marys).

SPONSOR A PEW

Dear Parishioners,

As you are aware, we had been planning and discussing for a while to replace our old, broken, damaged and messy pews of different colour, design and shape to make the church look better and sitting and kneeling more comfortable. After many little experiments of a carpenter and our construction students, this did not work out in the way we expected due to COVID and other reasons. We, then, invited a number of pew making companies to submit quotes. We received a number of quotes and finally, at the satisfaction of everyone in the committee, we decided to go with Grandchester Designs to make the new pews. (They are also making pews for our neighbouring parish Our Lady of the Rosary Kellyville).

We will have the pews finished by the end of March 2022. All pews will be coated with quality polyurethane 2 pack in a matt finish with kneelers covered with good quality vinyl and high density foam to make kneeling more comfortable and smooth.

The total cost of the project $175,000. So far, the total amount received from sponsors is $55,000. We still need to raise $120,000.

On this note, we would like to request you to sponsor a pew. It can be in memory of a deceased love one or your family or personal gift to the parish community. Each pew in the size of 4.6 metres will cost $2500 and pews at the back will be almost double the size to match with the shape of the church. A small memorial or "donated by" plaque will be placed upon request. You can get family and friends to pool together or if you cannot afford to sponsor one full pew, you can donate whatever amount you can to have comfortable pews and be part of the community that care its spiritual home.
