Welcome to the community of the Catholic Parish of St John 23rd Glenwood-Stanhope Gardens where the love of Christ is shining in so many ways.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT OF COUNTRY

In the spirit of reconciliation, we acknowledge the traditional custodians of the lands in which the Catholic Parish of St John XXIII and the Diocese of Parramatta sits, the land of the Darug and Gundungurra people. We would like to pay our respects to the Aboriginal Elders past, present and future for they hold the traditions, memories and wisdom of Mother Earth on which we place our feet upon today.

In the first reading (Job 38:1,8-11) God speaks to Job from the storm (and cloud, according to the Greek). This is a little odd since no storm had been mentioned beforehand, but it fits with the language of other theophanies. In this context we are then presented with an excerpt from the section recounting the creative power of God; the chosen excerpt concerns the confining of the seas. This is echoed then in the Psalm, where God stills the storm and hushes the waves, and sets the limits of the tide (a possible influence in Britain's legend of King Canute and the tide). It is readily apparent that these texts were chosen for the thematic link to the gospel story of the storm-tossed boat and the stilling of the wind and the sea. Having been primed by this language of theophany, we then appear to have it reinforced in the gospel by our Lectionary's Jerusalem Bible translation that says the disciples "were filled with awe", which is similar to the New Revised Standard Version, which adds "great" to the description of the storm. There is no doubt that Mark does present this account as a theophanic device leading to the rhetorical question, literally, "Who, therefore, is he that both the wind and the sea obey him?" The only scriptural precedent to answer this question is God. We may therefore understand this story to present the Christian claim that Jesus is God.

Since John's Gospel is the most consistently clear in proposing the divine status of Jesus, it is surprising that it does not include this story, versions of which are also found in Matthew (8:23-27) and Luke (8:22-25). However, closer examination of the phrase "they were filled with awe" reveals Mark alone to have an expression that is more literally translated "they were greatly afraid" or "were terrified", and that is taken directly from Jonah 1:10. In fact, Mark 4:36-41 has several direct links with Jonah 1:3-15, in which Jonah flees by boat from God's presence (1:3), who sends so severe a tempest upon the sea that the boat comes near to breaking (v.4). Meanwhile, incredibly in such dire circumstances, Jonah is in the hold, fast asleep (v.5, and snoring, according to the Greek). The sailors each call upon their gods, and Jonah is roused by the captain to do the same so that they might not perish (v.6). Jonah eventually admits his fault and confesses his God to be the maker of the sea and dry land (v.9). Then the men were greatly afraid or terrified, and Jonah offers a solution: he must be thrown overboard. Echoes of this part of Jonah are heard also in another gospel story of the crossing of the sea (Matthew 14:22-33, Mark 6:45-52 and John 6:16-21), but in each case the other evangelists, and John most thoroughly, carefully strip out the direct links to Jonah that Mark's has. Perhaps the possibility of contamination from the key point in the Jonah passage, that he flees God's presence and refuses to do what he was sent to do, simply makes it too unfavourable for John to use. Nonetheless, Mark sufficiently upends the story to show that while Jesus parallels Jonah, he is most definitely not fleeing God, nor his mission, and furthermore, while the gospel's storm is an entirely natural one, unlike Jonah's divine chastisement, Jesus manifests God's presence and wields the creative power to calm the wind and seas.

Mark's story is a creedal testimony from the nascent Church, but features within it also indicate that its members had grave fears for their wellbeing. Mark assures them that Christ is still present, and the forces of the world do obey him. While we might not expect miraculous intervention in the chaotic events of our lives, this story still has a power to refocus the mind and calm the heart to know that, come what may, Christ is present even in catastrophe.

Our Parish Mission

The Parish of St John XXIII is a faith community with the Eucharist as its heart. Inspired by John XXIII's prophetic opening of the windows of the Church, we welcome the fresh air of the Holy Spirit, inviting every person to share in the responsibility of enriching the life and faith of our community by sharing their gifts and talents."

Entrance Antiphon

The Lord is the strength of his people, a saving refuge for the one he has anointed. Save your people, Lord, and bless your heritage, and govern them for ever.

First Reading

A reading from the book of Job 38:1, 8-11

A reading from the book of Job

Here I have set the boundaries of the sea.

From the heart of the tempest the Lord gave Job his answer. He said:

Who pent up the sea behind closed doors when it leapt tumultuous out of the womb, when I wrapped it in a robe of mist and made black clouds its swaddling bands; when I marked the bounds it was not to cross and made it fast with a bolted gate? Come thus far, I said, and no farther; here your proud waves shall break.

The word of the Lord.

Thanks be to God

Responsorial Psalm

Ps 106:23-26, 28-31

R. Give thanks to the Lord, his love is everlasting.

Some sailed to the sea in ships to trade on the mighty waters. These men have seen the Lord's deeds, the wonders he does in the deep. R.

For he spoke; he summoned the gale, tossing the waves of the sea up to heaven and back into the deep; their soul melted away in their distress. R.

Then they cried to the Lord in their need and he rescued them from their distress. He stilled the storm to a whisper: all the waves of the sea were hushed. R.

They rejoiced because of the calm and he led them to the haven they desired. Let them thank the Lord for his love, the wonders he does for men. R.

Second Reading

A reading from the second letter of St Paul to the Corinthians 5:14-17

All things are made new.

The love of Christ overwhelms us when we reflect that if one man has died for all, then all men should be dead; and the reason he died for all was so that living men should live no longer for themselves, but for him who died and was raised to life for them.

From now onwards, therefore, we do not judge anyone by the standards of the flesh. Even if we did once know Christ in the flesh, that is not how we know him now. And for anyone who is in Christ, there is a new creation; the old creation has gone, and now the new one is here.

The word of the Lord.

Thanks be to God

Gospel Acclamation

Luke 7:16

Alleluia, alleluia!

A great prophet has appeared among us; God has visited his people. Alleluia!

Gospel

A reading from the holy Gospel according to Mark 4:35-41

Who can this be? Even the wind and the sea obey him.

With the coming of evening, Jesus said to his disciples, 'Let us cross over to the other side.' And leaving the crowd behind they took him, just as he was, in the boat; and there were other boats with him. Then it began to blow a gale and the waves were breaking into the boat so that it was almost swamped. But he was in the stern, his head on the cushion, asleep. They woke him and said to him, 'Master, do you not care? We are going down!' And he woke up and rebuked the wind and said to the sea, 'Quiet now! Be calm!' And the wind dropped, and all was calm again. Then he said to them, 'Why are you so frightened? How is it that you have no faith?' They were filled with awe and said to one another, 'Who can this be? Even the wind and the sea obey him.'

The Gospel of the Lord.

Praise to you, Lord Jesus Christ.

Communion Antiphon

I am the Good Shepherd, and I lay down my life for my sheep, says the Lord.

Praying together

Our Lady of Perpetual Help Prayer

O Mother of Perpetual Help, grant that I may ever invoke your powerful name, the protection of the living and the salvation of the dying. Purest Mary, let your name henceforth be ever on my lips. Delay not, Blessed Lady, to rescue me whenever I call on you. In my temptations, in my needs, I will never cease to call on you, ever repeating your sacred name, Mary, Mary. What a consolation, what sweetness, what confidence fills my soul when I utter your sacred name or even only think of you! I thank the Lord for having given you so sweet, so powerful, so lovely a name. But I will not be content with merely uttering your name. Let my love for you prompt me ever to hail you Mother of Perpetual Help. Mother of Perpetual Help, pray for me and grant me the favour I confidently ask of you. (Then say three Hail Marys).

Paying our debt together

We are very grateful to all our parishioners who always generously support our Parish.

FIRST COLLECTION supports the priests and deacons of the Diocese. SECOND COLLECTION goes to the running costs of our church, ministry expenses and specially to pay off our church mortgage. A Planned giving Program is in place to help with the planning/budgeting of church expenses. The Parish Finance Committee encourages parishioners to register for direct debit or credit card deductions instead of the envelope system. A SJ23rd registration form is available at the church foyer or from the website.

DRIVEWAY/CARPARK SAFETY

For everyone's safety, please park at least 1.8 meters from the church's driveway entrance.

Your parked vehicle must not block the flow of traffic or impair the vision of other drivers getting into or out of the parking lot, basically impeding vehicles from entering, exiting or turning into or from the church's driveway.

Vehicle safety is more than just staying alert when parking your car. Let us not become a danger to other road users.

Remember to please always use the footpath on both sides of the church car park when walking around the church parking lot, again for safety reasons.

Please make sure when you come to Mass, let us consider our neighbours. Do not block the neighbours' driveway.
